

WHITE GANGS

Structure

The structure of most White gangs differs depending on the individual group. Some groups, such as the Skinheads, require a formal membership application and dues. Members are forced to follow rules and abide by certain regulations. Other groups may be loosely structured and not follow any specific rules or a hierarchy.

Graffiti Symbols

Like many other gangs, White gangs use graffiti to intimidate, challenge and let others know what they stand for. Typically White gangs use graffiti as a means of glorifying and advertising the beliefs they espouse. Letters will often translate into numbers and vice versa. The following is a reference in deciphering White gang graffiti and symbols.
