As a trustee of public funds, the County Board of Education believes that tax dollars should be spent wisely and for good value. It also believes in effectively and efficiently managing the resources available to it. Resources of the San Diego County Office of Education may not be loaned or donated to agencies, organizations, associations, or individuals without the legal authority to do so.

The County Superintendent of Schools or his/her designee shall annually assess the amount of staff time or other resources provided to identifiable agencies to help support their contribution(s) to public education.
